1. Revision of Procedures for Appeals of Administrative Actions

At the meeting of June 8, 1978, the Trustees revised procedures by which an individual may appeal an administrative action to the Board of Trustees. The new procedures incorporate numerous recommendations made to the Board and discussed at its December 8, 1977 meeting, including: the creation of an Appellate Committee composed of Board members and charged with reviewing all applications for appeal; specification of the kinds of appeals that the Board will, and will not, ordinarily consider; and specification of the nature and length of written materials submitted to the Committee. This action is contained in a new Article IX Bylaws (of the Board of Trustees), Section 2, entitled "Appeals of Administrative Actions."
