CHRONO

Vol. 4, No. 10
September 15, 1972

Painters from the district council established picket lines at entrances to the University Friday morning as the result of a work assignment dispute.

University administrators have assigned custodians the responsibility for washing walls in classroom and office buildings. Painters are contending that this is a job function which they should perform.

In the event that picket lines continue, the University intends to hold classes as usual and to maintain as near normal operations as possible.
