Edwardsville Bulletin

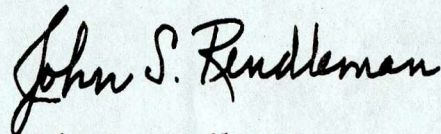

To the Faculty and Staff of Southern Illinois University

Vol. 6, No. 2
December 14, 1973

These days it seems that much too often we dwell on the current "crisis." We often have difficulty in stimulating our spirit, but I hope the University community can draw upon its deep inner resources to help us all rise to moments of gratitude and celebration.

With this hope, I offer you my best wishes for the full blessings of the season. I carefully guard what I say for fear it may be taken as a directive, but I will quote the concluding lines from a poem written by Robert Frost with the title "Directive":

Here are your waters and your watering place.
Drink and be whole again beyond confusion.

John S. Rendleman
