Vol. 8, No. 12
February 17, 1976

MEMO TO: University Community

FROM: John S. Rendleman

News of the disaster stemming from the earthquakes in central Guatemala is still incomplete, but nonetheless horrendous in its dimensions. At last count, the death toll from personal injury was in excess of 20,000, with countless others straining the limited medical facilities and resources available.

The American Friends Service Committee is now working to alleviate this terrible human suffering. Professor Thomas Maloney of the Department of Anthropology is serving as a conduit for contributions to the work of the committee. If you wish to contribute to this worthy cause, you may direct to him your contributions by check or money order to the order of the American Friends Service Committee.
