SIUE chancellor selection committee cuts field from 45 applicants to three finalists

BY ROB MILAZZO
NEWS REPORTER

It's been nearly a year since the selection process began and after many months of deliberation the 12-member search committee has narrowed the original field of 45 to three finalists for the chancellor position at SIUE.

The three finalists are Dr. Paul Gaston, Dr. David Potter and Dr. Mary Kay Tetreault.

Gaston is the provost and executive vice president at Northern Kentucky University. He left SIUE in 1988, after 19 years as a faculty member and associate vice-president. He left to serve as the dean of the college of arts and sciences at the University of Tennessee-Chattanooga from 1988 to 1993.

Potter has served as the provost of George Mason University in Fairfax, Virginia since 1996. He was the Vice president and dean of the college of arts and sciences at George Mason from 1991 to 1996 and has been an active figure in the structuring of higher education in the state of Virginia.

Tetreault is serving as the interim dean and development associate in the college of education at California State, Northridge. She served as the vice president for academic affairs at California State University, Fullerton from 1993 to 1998 and served as the dean and professor of human development and community service at Fullerton from 1987 to 1993.

Jerry Pogatshnik, chairman of the search committee, said the search for a new chancellor has been an agonizing process. "We've (the committee) all lost sleep trying to decide on the right person for the position, it's important that we do what's best for the university."

"We received 45 applications," Pogatshnik said. "We narrowed it down to eight semifinalist just before Christmas break. Each candidate was interviewed for about two hours, then we had follow up calls and reference checks."

Boycott threatens Intel

Source: www.epic.org

BY JOHN KLIMUT
NEWS REPORTER

Privacy groups have announced a boycott of the new Intel Pentium III processor.

In an effort to stop the impending boycott, Intel has backed down from its new serial number policy. After numerous discussions with consumer advocacy and privacy groups, Intel has decided to ship the new Pentium III chip with the controversial processor serial number turned off.

Originally the chip was to be shipped with the number turned on. Groups such as the American Civil Liberties Union voiced concerns about the ability to track individual users with the serial numbers.

The Electronic Privacy Information Center and Junkbusters Inc. called for the boycott, which was to be officially announced this past Monday, according to a zdtvnews.com story.

"The unique code will make possible for more extensive tracking and profiling of individual activity, without either the knowledge or consent of the user. Intel's original proposal to allow users to turn off the code each time they start their computers was unreasonable and impractical," Junkbusters said in a release on their Web site. "We see no other plausible means (than a boycott) of stopping the irreparable harm to Internet privacy that would be caused by Intel's inclusion of a PSN in its next major chip."

According to a statement to zdtvnews.com, an EPIC spokesman said the boycott would continue until more assurances come from Intel addressing privacy concerns.

The privacy camp is not satisfied with the processor serial numbers simply being turned off when shipped. As stated on both the Junkbusters and EPIC Web sites, "We plan to announce the boycott is over after Intel announces that it will disable the feature in the Pentium III and other chips that it plans to ship."

East St. Louis campus due for change

SIUE Chancellor David Werner released a memo on Jan. 21 regarding facilities on SIU's East St. Louis, campus.

Currently SIU is considering the choice of renovating existing buildings or constructing new ones.

SIU lists the East St. Louis facilities situation high on its priority list. In 1998 SIU received $400,000 from the state of Illinois for the planning of new buildings or the renovation of existing buildings. In addition SIU received $1.118 million in 1999 for the same purposes.

Recently the Illinois Community College Board disbanded the Metropolitan Community College in East St. Louis. The Southern Illinois Collegiate Common Market, which is composed of SIUE,

"It's been a long process, but there is not a more important job than choosing a chancellor," Pogatshnik said.

Each candidate will be visiting the campus for a series of interviews and meetings. Students and faculty will have the opportunity to see and hear the candidates in an open meeting.

Interviews will run in successive order, beginning with Potter on Feb. 1 and will conclude with the departure of Gaston on Feb. 9.

The search committee will then meet on Feb. 10 to draft a report to be submitted to President Sanders. This report will give an analysis of the strengths and weaknesses of each candidate.

Pogatshnik said that the role of the committee is to analyze the candidates and not rank them.

The target date for the final selection is March 11, when the Board of Trustees meets. The Board of Trustees has the final vote in the selection process.

SIUC and four community colleges, will be managing the site. The SICCM will be offering programs through local community colleges at the former MCC.

SIU and the ICCB are now trying to determine if it would be more convenient for SIU to relocate to the MCC site. Vice Chancellor of Admissions Ken Neher said they are working on "a plan whereby SIU and the SICCM would share the existing facility and construct any new necessary buildings."

Neher stated that if SIU takes advantage of the existing facilities, it would save the state of Illinois millions of dollars. The decision will be made by the state legislature of Illinois. SIU would like to use the MCC facilities, while the legislature has shown no inclination about their decision. Neher said, "They will make a decision within the next month or so."

East Side campus serves manyBY MICHAEL RODGERS
NEWS STRINGER

Most any student can tell you where the SIUE campus is, but few are aware of a vibrant and important branch of SIU located in East St. Louis.

Dr. Willie Epps, director of the East St. Louis campus refers to the center as "SIU's dirty little step child." But this stepchild is very helpful to hundreds of residents in Madison and St. Clair counties.

Some 28 years ago SIU came to East St. Louis. It has been helping people from infancy to old age ever since. Located at 411 Broadway, the center provides social, educational and health services to its patrons through its more than a dozen programs.

One of the best known programs is Head Start. The program offers a comprehensive enhancement of the social, intellectual, emotional and physical attributes of more than 1,300 low-income preschool children between ages 3 and 5.

Epps proudly noted that the program "is in the top five of the entire country."

The Child Development Program provides accessible, affordable, secure, and developmentally stimulating child care services for children from 2 to 6 years old whose parents are enrolled in school and/or employed.

Another program at the East St. Louis Center is Project Success. This program seeks to improve the health and human service for school-age children and their families, and to ensure that all children come to school prepared to learn and that they continue to receive the support necessary to prosper. Project Success assisted 5,600 students and parents in 1998, Epps said.

Upward Bound is a college preparatory program for high school students in grades 9 through 12. By emphasizing mathematics and sciences, the program seeks to enhance the likelihood of participant's success in high school and post secondary education programs. In all, a dozen programs are offered through the East St. Louis Center.

The Broadway location is one of fourteen facilities operated by the East St. Louis office with faculty and staff of more than 350 people. Epps is quite proud of his accomplishments and calls the East St. Louis center the "best-kept secret on Broadway."

The East St. Louis Center also offers SIUE grad students both clinical and practical experiences in what Epps refers to as the "Urban Laboratory." At any given time more than 40 or more students are learning and honing their skills in preparation for their professional endeavors.

The East St. Louis Center is committed to improving the quality of life for families and individuals by utilizing research to provide comprehensive programs, services, and training in the areas of health, education, social services, and the arts, Epps said.

Epps said, "Over the years many people have gotten the help and inspiration they needed to continue their education through our programs here."

The persistent "Patch" Adams

Ever since it opened on Christmas Day, "Patch Adams" starring Robin Williams, has given people a chance to see the positive difference a doctor is making in health-care delivery. This doctor is not a creation of Hollywood.

LIFESTYLE SECTION

Passion and persistence are two things people in college should have to stay focused on their dreams.

"Passion and persistence can change the world," said Dr. Hunter "Patch" Adams. His persistence with his passion changed his world practically overnight. Partially because of the success of the movie bearing his name, his dream of a place where needy people can receive care without cost is soon to become a reality. Patch only sees that as a steppingstone to the accomplishment of a dream of a hospital that provides free care.

"I believe that boredom, despair and loneliness are by far worse illnesses than cancer, AIDs or other diseases," Adams said at a benefit lecture Jan. 21 at the Sheldon Concert Hall in St. Louis. The benefit raised money for the Gesundheit Institute located on 310 acres in West Virginia.

"Surround yourself with friends that have the same goals as you," Adams said. He used the metaphor of migrating geese during his lecture. Adams noted that the geese depend on each other for strength; they don't do it alone. They can't do it alone, he said.

Adams stressed the importance of community throughout the evening. It is very important to include friends in one's life because they help make the struggle easier, he said. "Friends are the pillars of persistence," Adams said in his book "Gesundheit!"

Patch said he received his "philosophy about happiness" when he checked himself into a mental institution as a youth. He also decided there to become a doctor for no other reason but the chance to help people. Patch received his medical degree from the Medical College of Virginia where he was criticized for being "excessively happy," he said.

The point about himself he most emphasized, however, was that he is an activist for social change. He and his companion, Susan Parenti, said they love the movie and what it has done for their cause.

Most college students either have a clear idea of what they want to do after school, or they have no clue. The pressure they receive from outside sources may seem overwhelming, Adams said.

In the maelstrom of stressors, it is easy to lose sight of the original goal. It is also common for students not to set any goals because they fear failure, Adams said. Adams offered bits of advice that can be used by students: "Ground yourself in a mission of higher service. Make it fun! Live as close to your authentic self as possible. Find creativity in every act. Invite co-travelers. See life itself as a break."

Adams has a very simple message: Live life, every day. Don't give up. Fulfill your dreams.

This may sound corny to college students, but think how many people said to Adams that he should give up, that he would not succeed, that he was stupid and would never win.

But today he is touring the world, standing in front of large groups of people who each paid $25 toward his cause that "would never succeed."

And what does Adams say? "You can do it. All you need is passion and persistence."

CYBER-LOVE ISN'T JUST CYBER-SEX

ANTOINETTE BERNICH
LIFESTYLE STRINGER

Online love finally gets the credit it deserves in "You've Got Mail," the latest film bringing Meg Ryan and Tom Hanks together.

Director Nora Ephrom (who also directed "Sleepless in Seattle") successfully pairs Ryan and Hanks as rivaling bookstore owners. Hanks stars as Joe Fox, the son of the founder of the mega-chain bookstore Fox Books. Ryan is Kathleen Kelly, the happy-go-lucky owner of The Shop Around the Corner, a children's bookstore that has been in her family for years.

When Fox Books opens a store just around the corner from Kelly's shop, it spells disaster for the children's book store. Kelly turns to her online crush and vents about her problems. Little does she know the person she thinks she can relate to most in the world also happens to be her biggest rival, Joe Fox.

Sparks fly every time Fox and Kelly run into one another and Kelly is absolutely determined to keep her shop open. When one of them realizes their online love is who they never imagined it to be, their relationship changes dramatically.

Ryan does a terrific job as a single woman trying to survive. She displays a childlike innocence and unfaltering demeanor that brings out the best of Kelly.

Hanks once again proves to be the best at what he does. Still the same comedian he has always been, he brings his character to life with his charm and wit.

As usual, any movie that features Ryan and Hanks together is a must-see. "You've Got Mail" is definitely no exception.

NKOTB SYNDROME STRIKES AGAIN!

"VARSITY BLUES" IS THE PERFECT TEEN HEARTHROB FLICK WITH A SURPRISINGLY DECENT PLOT

BY JIM DALTON
LIFESTYLE STRINGER

Although I have never watched "Dawson's Creek," I'm familiar with James Van Der Beek's image as the gorgeous yet sensitive guy that teenage girls drool over. It was for exactly this reason that Van Der Beek wanted to show he was more than an articulate heartthrob, so he pumped his physique up with 15 pounds of muscle, dyed his hair black and banged heads on the football field with other cast members in the new movie "Varsity Blues." To the delight of all the "Dawson" faithful, he still infuses his character, Jonathan Moxon (Mox), with his appealing charm.

"Varsity Blues" is the story the West Canaan Coyotes of small-town Texas. This is a place where football is a way of life and its stars are treated like heroes. Inside this football-centric town Jonathan Moxon is only a reluctant participant. He reads Kurt Vonnegut during the games and wants to go to Brown University, not to play football, after high school. His ideals are put to the test when the starting quarterback goes down with an injury and he is thrust into the spotlight. However, his new-found celebrity status brings problems and temptation.

His father and coach constantly preach their win-at-all-costs philosophy to Mox and are frustrated that he doesn't make football his main priority. A sexy cheerleader in a whip cream bikini tries to come between him and his girlfriend. In the end he doesn't succumb to football's dark side and helps bring his team to his unadulterated vision of sports.

Although "Varsity Blues" is a formulaic melodrama targeted toward young audiences, it has a certain smartness and appeal that many of the slew of recent teen movies lack. Most of its appeal comes from the wonderful performances. Van Der Beek makes his almost unbelievably idealistic character a guy you can relate to and end up rooting for.

Jon Voight tears up the screen like a slow moving tank as the authoritarian coach. Barking orders and injecting players with pain killers, Voight is extremely convincing as the coach you don't cross. The rest of the football team, especially Scott Caan and Ron Lester, turn equally worthy performances. The director, Brian Robbins, does a good job of slowly building suspense and creating inspirational moments.

With its heartthrob star power, excellent supporting cast and a script with the proper mix of intelligence and fun, "Varsity Blues" has all the ingredients for a successful teen movie. Although it may not attract older audiences (people over 30) on a large scale and probably won't have the longevity of John Hughes' films of the '80s, it is a good movie that is sure to be a big hit with the 17-25 year-old demographic.

The Big Picture

Basketball

Price check on aisle four. Last week, Matt Geiger signed a multi-year contract with the Charlotte Hornets worth a total of $54 million. In other words, six long months of labor disputes accomplished about as much as the impeachment hearings have so far. It seems the owners haven't changed their money-hungry minds at all. Who is Matt Geiger you ask? Good question. Matt Geiger sounds like the kid who sat behind you in third grade English class picking his nose and never failing to mention that he "gots paschetti today." He needed 54 million whacks in the head with an unabridged Webster's dictionary, not dollars. It wouldn't be such a bad idea to leave a few thuds in the noggin for the braindead owners either.

It's time to stop placing the blame for these ridiculous salaries on the fault of the players. I mean really, if someone offered you enough money to buy the Western Hemisphere, would you honestly say no? It's not like Matt Geiger held the Hornet front office at gunpoint.

Golf

Over the past two years, you could turn on a television and find something about Tiger Woods somewhere. Oprah, Wheaties, and of course Nike all seemed to dub him as the golfer of the future. If Tiger participated in a tournament, he was expected to win and no other golfer was given a chance. That was last year. Welcome 1999 and David Duval.

David Duval has played in two tournaments this year and has won both of them. On Sunday, he began the day well out of the lead at the Bob Hope Classic. He proceeded to fire a record-tying score of 59 and win the tournament. In the history of the PGA tour, only two other men ever broke 60 in a single round of play, and never has a golfer fired 59 in the last round of a tournament.

On what may have been the greatest round in the history of golf, Duval made 11 birdies and an eagle on Sunday. You couldn't find 11 birdies in a pet store.

Cold war before the Super Bowl

Four days before Super Bowl XXXIII ; cold war and personal revenge at the top

BY PIETER TEELING
SPORTS WRITER

Two teams. About 75,000 spectators at Pro-Player-Stadium. Millions of fans behind TV screens across the nation and across the globe. Sunday, sunny Miami will host the 33rd National Football League playoff finals, better known as the Super Bowl. The Denver Broncos, winner of last year's edition, will take on the Atlanta Falcons. Denver is the favorite.

At the bookmakers the odds on the Broncos' winning are about a field's length away from the chance that the Falcons win. Logical? Yes, because Atlanta was not supposed to reach the finals in the first place.

It is the first time in nine years that the champion of the AFC is favored to win the Super Bowl. The Denver Broncos with an almost perfect regular season, have the opportunity to win their second consecutive Super Bowl. Putting away the New York Jets in the finals of the American Conference, the Broncos reached the sixth Super Bowl in the history of the franchise. This is an achievement only second to the Dallas Cowboys who have been in the finals eight times and have also been the last team to win two Super Bowls in a row back in 1993.

The Broncos' 38-year old quarterback John Elway, who is probably resigning after this season, is to become the first player ever to play five Super Bowls. Indeed a very nice way to end a 16-year pro football career.

The Atlanta Falcons are a story of their own. Coach Dan Reeves was forced to miss the last games of the regular season because of quadruple heart bypass surgery but he came back. Reeves led "the birds" to the first time ever Super Bowl in their history.

With victories over San Francisco in the divisional playoff and the heavily favored Minnesota Vikings in the NFC Championship, Atlanta has surprised everybody. The self-confidence that the team has built up over the second half of the season has lead the team very far and with that, coach Reeves knows what Super Bowl games are. Ironically, he lead the Broncos to three of them, but he never managed to win one.

The "game of games" as some might say, "just another football Sunday", to others, is certainly going to be an interesting one. Very talented players and teams on both sides and lots of questions about the strategy both teams are going to use, especially in the case of Atlanta.

If Atlanta has a chance to stop the offensive line of Denver, this might be the opportunity. Denver has set a record last season with 556 points in their own dome. The Super Bowl is played on neutral ground. They may have the NFL's MVP Terrell Davis, who is only the fourth 2,000 yard rusher in NFL history, but Atlanta's Jamal Anderson has rushed 1,846 yards. This is only a mere 152 yards less than Davis, just the length of one-and-a-half football field.

But not only the football capacities of both teams will decide who is going to win. It will also be a matter of personal revenge and unfriendliness on both sides. Atlanta coach Dan Reeves was sent off at Denver just after he led them to three Super Bowl finals, back in 1992. His offensive coordinator at the Broncos was Mike Shanahan, later fired by Reeves for taking too much power and being too influential with John Elway.

Shanahan, however, came back and is now the head-coach of the Broncos. Elway, seeming to be very close with his coach, said playing for Reeves was "hell". But then again, a lot of cold-war going on is usual. The stakes are high, both teams want to win. Denver for winning the Super Bowl twice and Atlanta to finish off their great comeback. Sunday night, we'll all know.

Miami will return to peace and either in Colorado or in Georgia a huge crowd will be on the streets. Celebrating the 6th Super Bowl victory of their team or the first one ever. Which party will be nicer?

McGwire meets Pope John Paul II at youth rally

BY CHRIS LAMB
SPORTS WRITER

Tuesday before the youth rally, St. Louis had the thrill of watching the leader of the Roman Catholic faith, Pope John Paul II, congratulate their hero Mark McGwire on his record-breaking season.

During the youth rally the Pope also managed to include a comparison to the home run chase in his speech.

"I am told there was much excitement in St. Louis during the recent baseball season, when two great players, Mark McGwire and Sammy Sosa, were competing to break the home run record," the pope said.

"You can feel the same great enthusiasm as you train for a different goal — the goal of following Christ, the goal of bringing his message to the world."

Cougars prepare for contest with Lewis University

BY CHAD BAALMAN
SPORTS WRITER

Mired in a three-game losing streak, the SIUE men's basketball team will get a chance to right the ship tonight at the Vadalabene Center.

The Cougars will meet Lewis University at 7:30 tonight after a road trip that saw SIUE suffer defeats at Northern Kentucky, Indianapolis and Drury.

"It was a long road trip," SIUE coach Jack Margenthaler said. "Even though we've played our best basketball on the road, at times you always like being at home with the familiarity of your own gym."

Prior to that three-game skid, the Cougars rattled off three wins in a row to even their record at 7-7. For SIUE, now 7-10 overall and 6-7 in the Great Lakes Valley Conference, it doesn't get any easier tonight against Lewis University.

The Flyers are 12-4 and 9-4 in GLVC action, good for a third-place tie with Northern Kentucky in the conference. The Cougars are in seventh place.

The Lewis Flyers, who have won three straight, boast the GLVC's top scorer in Milosh Pujo, a 6-foot-8 senior center, who averages 20.2 points per game.

"From talking to the coaches in the conference, they are probably playing as well as any team in the conference," Margenthaler said. "They've got an excellent team and they have good depth."

Struggling Wisconsin-Parkside comes to the VC for a 3 p.m. game on Saturday. The Rangers are 1-16 and haven't won a conference game this season. Parkside won its season-opener at College of St. Francis but have dropped 16 consecutive contests. SIUE defeated Parkside 74-69 on Nov. 28.

"Teams like that are a real concern," Margenthaler said. "They are still playing hard and they haven't given up, and one of these nights they might open up and have a great game. We just hope it isn't against us."

The Cougars do have scoring balance in their favor. Travis Wallbaum leads the way with a 14.6 scoring average while Ty Moss (13.1), Ben Wierzb (12.2) and Antonio McKinzie (11.5) have shown the ability to provide scoring punch.

"I prefer it that way," Margenthaler said. "We don't have that one guy at 20 points a game and then it drops off to nine points. We've got four guys in the 14 to 10 point range and that way opponents can't zero in on one player."

Cougars set several indoor track records at Illinois Wesleyan relays

Six school records are broken and several Cougars place high in the first event of the 1999 track season

BY TONY AMMANN
SPORTS EDITOR

The SIUE indoor track team started the season on a booming note Saturday at the Illinois Wesleyan Relays. In their first meet of the 1999 season, the Cougars set six new school records in the men's and women's events.

"This meet was a great way to begin the new year," Head Coach Darryl Frerker said. "We achieved everything at the meet that we were hoping to accomplish."

In women's individual events, SIUE junior Mekelle Beck placed fourth in the indoor weight throw event. Her 43-1.75 toss set a new Cougar record. Frerker was pleased with his performance.

"She has achieved a high level of performance in several events adding a school record in the weight throw and is less than five feet from qualifying for nationals," said Frerker.

The women's relay teams set three new records as well Saturday. Brooke Turner, Desiree Barcomb, Darcie Barr, and K-Shayla Lafayette broke the school's 4 x 200 meter relay with a time of 1:50.68. Despite the new record, the team finished in second place in the event.

The women also set a new record in the 4 x 400 relay with a time of 4:14.05. Alexis Shewienberg, Alissa Alberts, Ann Miklovic and Sarah Turpin set the record for the Cougars. The team finished second in the race.

Amanda Bozue, Janece Friederich, Casey Faro and Dancie Barr broke the women's sprint medley relay record with a time of 4:40.43. The time was good for fourth place in the event.

Schewienberg also finished second in the 55-meter hurdles with a time of 9.13 seconds. Martha Wilkinson finished in second in the high jump event, clearing 1.5 meters.

In the men's individual events Eli Potter broke his own indoor school record in the weight throw with a toss of 44 feet, two inches.

"Eli is developing into a future national qualifier for SIUE," said Coach Frerker. Potter also placed eighth in the shot put event with a mark of 44 feet, 3.5 inches.

The men's team also broke the school record for the 4 x 200 relay just as the girl's team did. Matt Noyes, Kraig Garber, Ryan Gold and Joe Pashea broke the record with a time of 1:34.75.

"The meet was an outstanding day for our freshman recruiting class with several of these athletes on the school record relays," Frerker said. "The freshmen were a large part of our success but many of our upperclassmen ran personal records to lead the way."

The Cougars' next challenge will be the Butler Invitational Saturday in Indianapolis.

Policy on Release of Student Information and Access to Student Records, SIUE

I. PURPOSE

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, hereinafter referred to as the "University", maintains individual records and information about students who are legitimately enrolled, for the purpose of providing educational, vocational, and personal services to the student. For the purpose of complying with federal regulations regarding the maintenance of confidentiality of student educational records, as required by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended, (20 U.S.C. par. 1232g) the Board of Trustees of Southern Illinois University enacts the following policy.

II. DEFINITIONS

A. "Student" is defined as a person who is or has been enrolled at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in a course of study either on campus or off campus. For purposes of this policy, any student attending SIUE will be considered to be an adult and to have sole control over the release of his or her information, except as provided in this policy. The term "enrolled" is defined as having been duly admitted as a student, registered, and paid appropriate fees.

B. "Education Records" means (1) those records which are directly related to a student, and are maintained by SIUE or by any party acting for SIUE; (2) the term does not include:

1. Personal records of instructional, supervisory, and administrative- personnel which are not revealed to other individuals.

2. Records of a law enforcement unit of an educational institution which are (1) maintained apart from the education records, (2) maintained solely for law enforcement purposes, and (3) are not disclosed to individuals other than law enforcement officials of the same jurisdiction.

For purposes of this policy, the SIUE Police Office will be treated as an outside agency and will therefore be required to comply with all formal regulations relating to the disclosure of information from student's educational records, as set forth in this policy.

3. Employment records, so long as they are maintained separately from any educational record.

4. The Office of the Registrar will be responsible for identifying or withholding directory information which the student requests not to be released and for informing all University recipients of that information that such information is not to be released. student. The University (or each appropriate recordkeeping office) may not require a waiver of rights, but it may request said waiver.

2. If a student has waived his/her right to see confidential letters of recommendation placed in his/her record after January 1, 1975, the waiver will be effective only if: (a) the applicant or student is, upon request, notified of the names of all individuals providing the letters or statements; (b) the letters or statements are used only for the purpose for which they were originally intended, and (c) such waiver is not required by the University as a condition of admission to or receipt of any other service or benefit from the University.

3. A waiver may be revoked, but the revocation must be in writing and signed by the student. Revocation of waiver will affect only documents received after its execution.

That office also maintains only the academic information necessary to permit its functioning. For information concerning these records, contact the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, or the Dean of the School of Dental Medicine for students enrolled in the School of Dental Medicine.

E. Placement Records

The Career Development Center creates a record for those persons who wish to avail themselves of its services, with the student's voluntary participation. This information is distributed to potential employers. It consists of self-completed resumes and various personal references. For information concerning these records, contact the Director of the Career Development Center.

V. ACCESS TO RECORDS

A. Right to Inspect or Review Educational Records

1. The student has the right to physically review his records in the presence of a designated University representative.

2. Requests for review are required to be submitted in writing to the appropriate office.

3. That office shall comply with the request within a reasonable time, but in any case, compliance shall be effected not more than thirty (30) days after the receipt of the request.

4. Where requested by the student concerned, a written interpretation of the record shall be provided by qualified University personnel and said interpretation filed in the educational record.

5. Original records cannot be removed from University premises. A copy will be provided if requested, but only if not providing a copy will preclude review of the educational record by the student.

6. Copies of transcripts from other educational institutions will be provided only if the original source of those transcripts is no longer available or going to the original source would cause undue hardship as determined by this University.

B. Limitations on Right to Inspect or Review

1. The student may not inspect the following records:

a. Financial records and statements of his parents.

b. Confidential letters or statements of recommendation, placed in records before January 1, 1975, so long as they were solicited with an understanding of confidentiality and are used only for the purpose for which they were written.

c. Confidential letters of recommendation and confidential statements of recommendation placed in the educational records of the student after January 1, 1975, are subject to the student's right to inspect and review unless the student has signed a "written waiver of the student's right to access" after being notified of the names of those persons making confidential recommendations, and that such recommendations are used solely for the purpose for which they were intended.

2. Reports that involve two or more persons are considered confidential to protect the identity of the other person(s), but review is permitted as to that portion relating to the student concerned.

VI. CHALLENGING CONTENTS OF A STUDENT'S EDUCATIONAL RECORD

A. Purpose

A student has the right to challenge the content of a record on the ground that he/she believes it is inaccurate, misleading, or other wise in violation of his/her privacy or other rights and to have inserted in the record his/her written explanation of its contents. Academic grade review procedures are covered by separate policy. (A hearing may not be requested by a student to contest the assignment of a grade; however, a hearing may be requested to contest whether or not the assigned grade was recorded accurately in the educational records of the student.)

B. Procedure

To initiate such a challenge, the student shall, within sixty (60) days after he/she has inspected and reviewed the record in question for the first time, file with the University office responsible for maintaining such record a written request for correction, on a form specified by the University. Within thirty (30) days following receipt of such request, the head of such office, or his/her designated representative, shall review the record in question with the student, and either order the correction or deletion of such alleged inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise inappropriate data as specified in the request, or notify the student of the right to a hearing, at which the student and other persons directly involved in the establishment of the record shall have an opportunity to present evidence to support or refute the contention that the data specified in the request is inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise inappropriate. The head of the office, or his/her designated representative, shall have five (5) days from the time of the review to notify the student of his/her decision. If the student desires a hearing on the decision, the student shall exercise said option in writing within ten (10) days of said notice, and file the request for a hearing with the head of the office.

C. Hearing

The student shall be given written notice, sent to his/her last known local address of the time and place of such hearing, not less than ten (10) days in advance. The hearing will be conducted by a University representative who does not have a direct interest in the outcome. The student is permitted to challenge the hearing officer as to qualification and/or prejudice. Any disagreement as to the selection of the hearing officer will be resolved by the Chief Officer for Student Affairs, or designee. The hearing must occur no later than forty-five (45) days from a request for same.

The student shall have the right to attend the hearing, to be advised by an individual of his/her choice at his/her own expense, including an attorney, and to call witnesses in his/her behalf. The student shall be notified in writing of the decision within ten (10) days following the hearing. Such decision is final, subject to appropriate review by the Chancellor, President and Board of Trustees at the request of either party. The decision reached shall be based solely upon the evidence presented at the hearing and shall include a written summary of the evidence and reasons for the decision, the same of which shall be filed in the student's official record.

VII. DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS

The University may destroy educational records when they are no longer necessary, with the following limitations:

A. Educational records may not be destroyed if there is an outstanding request to inspect and review them.

B. Explanations placed in the record by the student and the record of requests and disclosures of information must be maintained as long as the educational record to which they pertain is maintained.

VIII. RIGHT TO FILE COMPLAINTS

A. If the student thinks his or her rights have been violated, he or she should first file a complaint with the head of the office which maintains the records in question.

B. After exhausting all the internal remedies available within the University, if the student still thinks his or her rights have been violated, written complaints can be filed with:

The Family Educational Rights & Privacy Act Office
Department of Health, Education and Welfare
330 Independence Avenue, S.W.
Washington, D. C. 20201

The Office shall notify the complainant and the University of the receipt of the complaint and an investigation will follow.
